Walter Germany Gets a New Look

The invitations have been sent out, as on the fourth of May 2002, VIP guests and customers will witness the grand opening of Walter's new facilities in Germany. The facilities have been expanded an additional 3,000 square meters from the original 2,500, for a total of 5,500 sq. m. (60,000 sq. ft.). In the middle of the atrium's entrance is the “swimming café” that sits atop an indoor pond.

The facilities have been dubbed a “technology park for innovative biotech companies”. So, in addition to our European Chemical Tools production, the facilities are now home to three other tenants. These developments will enhance our capacity to innovate.

With help of new chemical tools and very interesting machines, such as our hot water parts washers, we are entering new markets. These machines will also help us, to get more chemical tools into industrial companies.

Our presence on the European market is growing and we are continuously finding new ways to create value for our customers.
